CHANCERY CAUSES.

SARAH C. SAVAGE ET AL. VS. E. W. Robertson, Sub. Tr., et al. In Chancery. To Sarah C. Savage, C. E. Henderson, F. Sitterling, complainants, and such other creditors of The Roanoke Construction and Improvement Company, N. Pardee, and J. B. Levy, as may come into this suit, and contribute to the costs of the same.

To E. W. Robertson, Substituted Trustee, The Roanoke Construction and Improvement Company, N. Pardee, and J. B. Levy, defendants.

TAKEN UP. That pursuant to a decree entered in the Hastings Court for the City of Roanoke, May 1st, 1894, in the above named chancery cause, I will on SATURDAY, THE 9TH DAY OF JUNE 1894, at the office of Lockett & Co., between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. of that day, proceed to take, state, inquire into and report to the court in which this cause is now pending, the following matters:

1. What real estate is owned by the Roanoke Construction and Improvement Company, N. Pardee and J. B. Levy and the liens existing against the same, together with their respective priorities and dignities.

2. What real estate or other property has been fraudulently or unlawfully conveyed by the Roanoke Construction and Improvement Company, N. Pardee and J. B. Levy, to any person, firm or corporation, and if so, to whom and in whose name and how such real estate or other property now stands.

3. Whether the rents and profits of the real estate owned by the Roanoke Construction and Improvement Company, N. Pardee and J. B. Levy will in five years pay and satisfy the liens against the same.

4. Any other matters which may be deemed pertinent by me, or that may properly be required by any party in interest in this cause.

It is from any cause taking, stating and reporting of the above account to be commenced or if commenced be not completed then, the same shall be continued from day to day at same place, between the same hours, until concluded.

By the terms of said decree, and by law provided a publication of this notice once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the city of Roanoke shall be deemed equivalent to personal service upon all parties in interest.

J. W. COSBY, Special Commissioner.

THE LADY BARBER.

Before this never ago began
We thought the art tenuous
Borrowed by right of birth to man
From ages immemorial.
But she has come, with fixed intent,
To prove to all the nations
That man is not pre-eminent
In barberous operations.

Oh, shaving is a sweet delight
Since she the razor wielded
My heart unto her charms so bright
Has altogether yielded.
And, though she thinks 'tis only gush,
My ecstasies amaze her.
I hail her vices of comb and brush
And goddess of the razor.

Some day, with lather on my cheek
(Such is the plan I harbor),
I shall courageously seek
The hand of my fair barber.
But if she has already found
Some man to love and praise her
Her "No" would "cut" me, I'll be bound,
More deeply than her razor.

—National Barber.

Shall Only the Few Be Saved?

Down on Madison street, between La Salle and Clark streets, a sermon is preached every day and at all hours of the day. Not a sound is uttered, but the words carry a force and effect that are seldom excelled in any of the Chicago pulpits.

The busy surge of humanity often pauses for a moment to hear the mute but eloquent appeal. Men with business suits sometimes drop out of the crowd to linger an instant and calculate with their wonted rapidity the marvelous lesson of a chart. Religiously inclined people hang for minutes musing on the figures, and at times a sigh escapes their lips for the condition of this world. Some take notes.

The text, as it is a sermon, is, "Go forth into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." It is a plea for missions at the top of a chart with 1,424 squares. Each square is about an inch and represents a million people, all of them together the population of the world. Each religious organization is characterized by a different color. The Protestants number 116,000,000; the Greek church, 54,000,000; the Roman Catholics, 190,000,000; the Jews, 8,000,000; the Mohammedans, 170,000,000; and the heathens the enormous number of 856,000,000. The heathen world is painted suggestively in black.

Right in the center are three white squares. They look lonely and endangered as a little white skiff tossed on the heaving bosom of the dark and stormy sea. Only three small squares out of that vast number represent the Christian element in this world! And this only the nominal Christians, for three-fourths of one of these squares is red, representing 750,000 professed Christians. All kinds of remarks are made by the people who look—Chicago News.

The Sole Woman Delegate.

Miss Annie Lincold was the sole woman delegate among the 50 who attended the fourth annual convention of the National Textile union recently held in Philadelphia. Miss Lincold is president of the Providence union, No. 42, and master workman of the Knights of Labor assembly, No. 4,047, of Providence. She is a cousin of Miss Mary O'Reilly, one of the deputy factory inspectors of Pennsylvania, and like her is a student of the labor question and a bright speaker. The National Textile union embraces in its membership all branches of the textile industry, including workers in cotton and gingham mills, lace curtain operatives and square weavers and dyers, and the delegates attending the convention represented 40,000 workers. Mrs. Martha Moore Avery of Boston was one of the speakers.—Philadelphia Item.

Possibilities of Surgery.

The extent to which the human body can be mutilated without causing death is beyond what most people think. Of course the removal of the largest limb is a familiar fact, but the successive removal of all the limbs would in most cases result in nothing worse than inconvenience. In the same way the internal organs may be extirpated. This is facilitated by their quality. One kidney may be removed, and the other will make up for the loss by doing double work. One eye may be taken out and the sight remain practically unimpaired. Large portions of the brain may be removed with no injury to life or intellect. A portion of the intestines has been cut out and the ends sewed together, and their normal action and function have not been interfered with.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Popes and Their Beards.

If we are to believe the old proverb, prophets have always had beards for the faithful to swear by. Not so with the popes. From the time of St. Peter down to the year 1153 the popes all wore full beards, but for the next four centuries they were cleanly shaven. Then came a period of two centuries in which they again wore the beard, but from the year 1700 until the present time the smooth face alone has been seen in the papal line.—St. Louis Republic.

The Radcliffe library has a volume of immense interest to bachelors. It is the work of an unknown author and is entitled "The Art of Governing a Wife, With Sundrie Rules by the Observance of Which She May Be Kept From Usurping the Powers Which Appertain Unto Her Lord and Master."

A spring of marvelously pure water discovered on the farm of ex-Congressman Carlos French, near Seymour, Conn., has been analyzed by Professor Chittenden of Yale college and pronounced to be the purest water yet analyzed in America.

"I like to look at you," said a dear little girl to a stately woman one day. "Why?" asked the latter, pleased at the childish confidence. "Because your eyes are so green," was the unexpected answer.

Statisticians estimate that there are not less than 50,000 barrels of coal oil used every day for illumination, fuel, etc.

Wives and Mothers

Know that lard makes food too "rich" for children and delicate persons, that it is unhealthy for everybody & that it tends to dyspepsia, &c.

So long as LARD is LARD these things must be so, but the NEW SHORTENING—

COTTOLENE is better than lard for all cooking purposes, &
